Never before has geography played such a critical role in virtually every aspect of our lives. From the long-standing traditions of map making and understanding how the physical environment is organized, to the contemporary explosion of GIS, GPS, and other geo-spatial analyses and techniques, “Geography” in its most inclusive definition, permeates every aspect of our daily lives.

AGS is the only organization focused on bringing together academics, business people, and those who influence public policy (including leaders in local, state and federal government, not-for-profit organizations and the media), and the general public for the express purpose of furthering the understanding of the role of geography in society. We bridge gaps and promote connections between leaders and organizations that might not otherwise have the opportunity to interact. AGS provides leadership to frame the national discussion of the growing importance of geography and geo-spatial tools. Everything we do is about looking at “Geography” from a wide perspective and ensuring that everyone has the opportunity to interact and gain a better understanding of the importance of geography.
